

Message from Mrs Kinsley Welcome back to Chatsworth—I hope you all had a wonderful half-term break. The children have enjoyed settling into their new topics, and Monday was a flurry of excitement with the school full of fairytale characters, historical figures and ecological adventurers. We pride ourselves on launching new topics with an exciting and engaging entry point, and the children certainly enjoyed themselves. Thank you to you all for, again, wowing us with your support for our holiday homework. The corridor walls are already covered with the children's creative work, and they've been able to start the topic feeling experts before they've begun! Have a lovely weekend—and Dydd Gwyl Dewi Hapus!

SAFE In the next few weeks we will be continuing to review our medication protocols, and will be using MediTracker to store care plans, record medication and communicate the administration of any medication to parents. As we move to the new systems we may ask families to provide additional medical information for our records. Please be patient with us as we work together to implement a robust and efficient system to continue keep our children safe.

International Women's day

Next Friday we look forward to welcoming the special women of the Chatsworth community into school for our IWD event. Please scan the QR code below if you missed Miss Turner's letter this week that outlines the times and arrangements, we look forward to seeing you!

HAPPY Mr Webb led our My Happy Mind assembly this week to introduce our new module Relate. The children were introduced to the new character Rose, and how the sessions this term will focus on relationships—why these are so important, and how we can develop the skills to build positive relationships and get on with others.

LEARNING Reception have been very busy this week. We came to school dressed up as our favourite storybook character. We then learnt all about the naughty Gingerbread man! We have had a go at designing our own Gingerbread man and retelling the story to our friends!

If you have a pre-loved World Book Day costume that you'd like to donate to another family, please could you send it in on Monday or Tuesday in a carrier bag, and if we have enough donations we'll open up the hall for anyone who would like one on Tuesday afternoon.

St David's Day

The school has been a sea of yellow today as everyone has celebrated St David's Day, and what a gorgeous day to do it! The sun was shining and the daffodils are springing up, Spring is definitely on the way!
