

Message from Mrs Kinsley This term has certainly been action-packed! After last week's celebrations for World Book Day, International Women's Day, and a Maths workshop, things haven't slowed down as we've been celebrating Science Week. A big thank you to Miss Karagoz for arranging all the exciting activities—more details on those next week. As I write this, I'm also picking out my green outfit for our St. Patrick's Day celebrations! Thank you so much for your continued support with all the activities and events we plan throughout the term. We are committed to giving your children an Extraordinary School Day, but we also recognise that this sometimes asks a lot of you, too. We appreciate everything you do to help make these events possible. Have a wonderful weekend, and Lá Fhéile Pádraig Sona Duit!

SAFE Following Mrs Harbor's letter last week, if your child has an epi-pen can you please ensure the school has all the necessary paperwork to support the prescription—the office can help if you're unsure of  the information we need, thank you.

Attendance and holiday absence

Term-time holiday absences are not authorised at Chatsworth. While we understand that family holidays are important, we have an obligation to monitor all attendance carefully to ensure your child's education and well-being are not disrupted. We are proud that our attendance rate is above the national average, and we aim to maintain this by prioritising regular school attendance. Any unauthorised term-time holiday could result in a fine, and we appreciate your support in helping us continue to provide a safe, supportive learning environment for all our children. Please speak to myself or Aimee if you have any questions regarding this, thanks.

SAFE—HAPPY—LEARNING

LEARNING To kick off our Science Week celebrations, the children had a fantastic time on Monday during the Animals Workshop, where Bonnie brought in her collection to share. The children were given the opportunity to ask questions and showed excellent behaviour, ensuring the animals felt calm and at ease—well done everyone! It was a wonderful start to Science Week.

Pre-loved and donations

We are currently unable to accept any further donations of school uniforms for our pre-loved service due to limited storage space. However, we would greatly appreciate any donations of underwear, socks, and tights for our youngest pupils, who occasionally need a change of clothes. If you'd like to contribute, please drop any donations off at the office. Thank you for your continued generosity and support!

Next stop Masterchef!

A huge congratulations to our school chef, Lisa, who reached the final three in the Regional Final of School Chef of the Year on Wednesday! We already know that Lisa and her team serve up winning dishes for our children every day, and we're thrilled that Nourish chose her to represent them at this prestigious competition. Well done, Lisa – we're incredibly proud of you!
